Kesa Molotsane remains on course to win the Spar Women's Grand Prix after her second-place finish in the Durban leg of the 10km series yesterday.

Molostane finished in 33 min31 sec but admitted she struggled with the heat in Durban, coming from a chilly Bloemfontein, her home town.

She now leads the overall standings after another second-place in Cape Town and a first-place finish in Port Elizabeth. Yesterday she finished behind winner Tish Jones of Britain, who won in a time of 32:58.

Molotsane remains positive with three more legs to come in Johannesburg, Pretoria and Pietermaritzburg.

"I am looking forward to the next three races and I will be looking to stay at the top. My run was a bit different. Before I came down here, it was minus three degrees at home and I came here to find that it's 25 degrees," said Molotsane.

"That's a drastic change for my system. I needed to adapt."

Lebogang Phalula overcame a chest infection to finish third, in 33:39.

"I've been sick for almost two weeks. I am happy to be in the top three," she said.

Perfect 10 for Mchunu

Left-hander schools and defeats ex-champ Muller

By Bongani Magasela

If Thabiso "The Rock" Mchunu was a number, he would be a perfect 10.

That is how best to describe this left-hander in his poetic performance when he schooled and punished Johnny "The Hurricane" Muller at Emperors Palace on Saturday evening.

Their eagerly awaited 12-rounder lived up to the status of being the main event in Golden Gloves "Hurtin' for Certain" bill.

Mchunu, from KwaXimba in Pietermaritzburg, did just everything right throughout the fight and that was confirmed by judges who scored the one-sided fight 120-108.

That lopsided points victory enabled Mchunu – who is trained by Sean Smith in Johannesburg – to reclaim both the African Boxing Union (ABU) and South African cruiserweight belts. He forfeited the SA belt after failing to make the weight for his defence against Daniel Bruwer in 2010, and vacated the ABU belt in 2014. On Saturday, Mchunu bettered his CV to 18 wins against three losses, while Muller suffered his eighth defeat in 30 fights.

Muller, who was ushered to war by veteran trainer Harold Volbrecht, kept charging forward but was ineffective.

Ealier on Saturday, Lee Dyer and Alfonzo Tissen gave their best but after 12 rounds judges could not decide on the winner and instead declared the closely contested fight a draw. Dyer retained his ABU super middleweight by virtue of being the champion.

Scores were 119-117 for Tissen and 116-112 for Dyer, while Silvia Mokaila scored it a draw at 114-114.

Simpiwe "Chain Reaction" Khonkco retained his IBO strawweight belt with an unanimous points win against Lito Dante from the Philippines. Scores were 118-110 and 119-109 (twice).

Thulani "Tulz" Mbenge defeated Jayar Inson from the Philippines on points over eight rounds. The SA and ABU welterweight holder remains undefeated after 11 fights, with 10 KO.

The tournament was attended by the who's who in sports and politics, including Tokyo Sexwale and PSL marketing consultant Peter Mancer.
